

Janice's personal questions for directing focus:

what are you really happy about right now?

what is going really well for you right now?

who loves you... and who do you love?

what are you really looking forward to right now?

what are you grateful for?